Two die from injuries

Two UTU members, Larry B. Green and Michel Ouellet, have died as a result of injuries suffered on the job.

Green, 59, died March 2 after being hospitalized about four months in a semi-comatose state following a truck/train collision in McLean County, Ill. He was a member of Local 733, DeQueen, Ark.

Ouellet, 53, a CN Rail employee with 14 years of experience as a train conductor and member of Local 4 in Chartry, Quebec, was killed Feb. 27 while replacing a knuckle on a train.

Green was an engineer for DeQueen & Eastern Railroad Co., which is a subsidiary of the Weyerhaeuser Co. According to reports, the collision sent Green to a hospital in critical condition where he never recovered.

A log truck collided with Green’s train Oct. 18. The truck was loaded with logs. The logs hit the cab of the train and struck Green. Two other railroad employees were injured but not critically. The truck driver was pronounced dead at the scene from massive injuries.

IC members ratify pact

By unohed-of-margins, UTU members employed on Canadian National subsidiary Illinois Central, which includes former Chicago Central & Pacific and Gulf, Mobile & Ohio lines, have ratified a new agreement retroactive to Aug. 1, 2006, and effective through July 31, 2010.

General Chairperson R.W. “Red” Dare (GO 433) said 76 percent of the 52 members eligible to vote returned ballots, and 80 percent of the ballots returned voted in favor of the contract, which extends the hourly rate agreement for conductors and brakemen.

“The hourly agreement provides extra-board employees the same three days off each pay period, and guarantees reliable and predictable schedules and days off for train crews,” Dare said.

Dare said the “input” of UTU International President Mike Futhey “was invaluable. We couldn’t have reached this agreement without his assistance.”

Also receiving praise were General Chairperson Tracy Bubiliz (GO 401), negotiating team members William A. “Butch” St. John and Ronald G. Caldwell, and International Vice President Robert Kerley, who was assigned earlier this year to assist UTU negotiators.

Futhey said that “jointly, with the carrier, we have addressed in the agreement a number of the concerns voiced by the membership, and issues beneficial to the membership will be addressed in an established labor-management conference committee. The continued patience of the membership, while this agreement was negotiated, paid off,” Futhey said.

UTU general chairs endorse contract

By a unanimous show of hands, UTU general chairpersons expressed support for the tentative national railroad agreement, which will be mailed to members by late May for a ratification vote.

This provides opportunity for local meetings to explain the agreement and respond to member questions.

More than 50 general chairpersons — representing affected members on BNSE, CSX, Kansas City Southern, Norfolk Southern, Union Pacific and many smaller railroads — met in Houston March 25 to review the document and discuss with the UTU negotiating committee its provisions and application.

The tentative agreement is posted at www.utu.org along with agreed-upon questions and answers jointly written by UTU negotiators and the carriers.

“International vice presidents and general chairpersons currently are leading informational meetings to assure members cast an informed ballot,” said UTU International President Mike Futhey. “It is important that every affected member be fully educated on this tentative agree-

While the tentative agreement does not obtain everything sought by members, it is a superior agreement considering the atmosphere in which negotiations transpired.

Beyond a 17-percent wage increase and no change in work rules, provisions include:

• Arbitration to settle the dispute over entry rates tied to training;

• Continuation of a cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) during the next round of bargaining — a provision that put more than $7 per day in our pockets while we were at the negotiating table this round. COLAs are an advance on retroactive pay and help ease the burden of higher fuel and insurance costs.

UTU members ratify contract with Amtrak

UTU-represented conductors and assistant conductors on Amtrak have ratified a new agreement on wages, rules and working conditions retroactive to Jan. 1, 2000, and extending through Dec. 31, 2009.

The contract ratification ends eight difficult years of negotiation under complex Railway Labor Act provisions. The ratified agreement saves 450 assistant conductor positions, guarantees retroactive pay, provides additional general wage increases and avoids any work-rules givebacks.

By a 123-76 vote, members represented by General Committee of Adjustment 663 (GO 663) in Boston ratified their agreement, while members represented by General Committee of Adjustment 769 (GO 769) voted 910 to 170 to ratify an identical agreement.

GO 663, headed by General Chairperson Bill Bebe, represents Amtrak conductors and asistirant conductors from New England south to New York (but excluding New York City). GO 769, headed by General Chairperson Al Suozzo, represents Amtrak conductors and assistant conductors from New York City south to Washington, D.C., and all Amtrak conductors and assistant conductors assigned to non-Northeast Corridor passenger trains.

The UTU-ratified agreements mirror the pattern settlement reached by all other Amtrak craft unions, but are unique in having halted Amtrak’s attempt to eliminate some 400 assistant conductors in a cost-saving effort.

Suozzo expressed his “sincere thanks” to UTU International Vice President Tony Iannone for his “effective assistance, patience and doggedness in one of the most difficult contract negotiations ever conducted with Amtrak or its predecessor rail-passerger operators.”

Suozzo also praised the efforts, during negotia-

UnitedHealthCare announces new plans under GA-23111 for railroad employees and their eligible dependents (not eligible for Medicare)

The participating unions of the Cooperating Railway Labor Organizations, working with UnitedHealthCare (UHC), have announced three new benefit plans available under GA-23111 for railroad employees whose coverage may cease under their active-employee health-care plans, but who are not yet eligible to participate in Medicare.

Plans A, B, and C will provide new options with different costs and plan designs, allowing members to select the plan that best suits their needs.

There is currently no Plan A available and those currently enrolled in Plan B will automatically be enrolled in the new Plan A.

Those currently enrolled in Plan C will automatically be enrolled in the new Plan C.

This action is being taken in order to avoid any potential lapses or discontinuation of coverage for those who may need it. If you do not wish to continue coverage under the new plans contact UnitedHealthCare at (800) 842-5252 to cancel or change your plan participation.

UnitedHealthCare will attempt to contact current Plan B participants by telephone to explain this change and allow for a retroactive termination of plan participation, should the need arise.

Special enrollment period: April and May 2008

Due to the addition of these three new plans, a special two-month open enrollment period is being offered for this year only. The open enrollment period began April 1 and runs through May 31 with the coverage you select effective June 1, 2008. After this 2008 enrollment period, this plan enrollment will be May 2010. (Note that this 2008 expanded enrollment period also applies to other plans under GA-23111 such as Plan E and Plan F.)

- Monthly cost

You pay a separate monthly cost for yourself and for your dependents. The monthly cost for your dependents is inclusive of all of your eligible dependents (spouse, children under age 19, students age 19 to 25, and incapacitated children age 19 and over).

The monthly cost for each of the new plans effective June 1, 2008, is:

- Plan A: $250

Happy 100th birthday, FELA

By International President Mike Fathery

A railroad’s most cherished workplace-safety assurance is the Federal Employer’s Liability Act (FELA), which is 100 years old this month.

Railroading is among the most dangerous occupations in America. In an industry that too often puts profits ahead of safety, the FELA is a powerful prod to improved workplace safety.

“There should be legislation to secure pecuniary compensation to workmen suffering from accidents,” said President Teddy Roosevelt in 1907 when urging Congress to pass the FELA.

Indeed, in the year leading up to the FELA’s passage, 4,353 railroad workers were killed, and 62,689 more railroad employees were injured, according to data reported in 1908 by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Years earlier, when viewing similar appalling data, President Benjamin Harrison declared, “It is a reproach to our civilization that any class of American workmen should, in the pursuit of a necessary and useful vocation, be subjected to a peril of life and limb as great as that of a soldier in war.”

With encouragement from UTU Legal Counsel – attorneys who answer to the UTU – is provided at www.utu.org, or may be obtained from local union officers or your general chairpersons.

The FELA also prohibits railroads from retaliating against employees who provide Designated Legal Counsel with factual information on injuries to fellow employees, or who testify in support of injured workers.

When the carriers and their anti-labor friends in Congress unsuccessfully attempted to repeal the FELA, the U.S. General Accounting Office in 1995 issued a report concluding that the FELA is an effective law, working as intended.

“The FELA was designed to protect on the railroad industry some of the costs of the legs, arms, eyes, and lives which it consumed in its operation,” wrote Supreme Court Justice William Douglas in 1948.

If you are injured on the job, the FELA and your UTU Designated Legal Counsel are the best friends you and your family have.

Carriers repeatedly have sought to have Congress repeal the FELA – each attempt blunted by the UTU, and with credit for the successful defense rooted in member contributions to the UTU PAC.

Join me in wishing the FELA a happy 100th birthday.

Even better, consider making a special contribution to the UTU PAC to help us continue our vigilance in defending the FELA.

McCain no friend of Amtrak, labor

While the Democrats are fighting like the Hatfields and McCoys, McCain will use the next months to raise tons of money and heal the Republican Party.

Enough already. I am afraid that I will wake up Election Day morning to a headline saying, “Democrats beat Democrats – McCain elected.”

This presidential campaign is already more than a year old. Every move is analyzed, reanalyzed and over-analyzed – not because there are any enormous differences between the two Democratic candidates, but because there are very few.

The media looks at every word said by the candidates and the campaigns, searching for conflict so that the networks can draw more viewers.

The news media gives no coverage to any differences between the two candidates because there is almost none.

The voters in the United States over the past decade have been divided 51 to 49.

Today, the Democratic Party is divided 51 to 49. John McCain cannot win this election, but the Democrats can sure lose it.

A McCain victory would make many moderates, progressives and liberals hearken to the good old days under George Bush. That is right. They will look on the Bush administration as being moderate.

Four more years of right-wing judicial appointments will guarantee there will be no fairness in the judicial system.

Amtrak employees hoping for retroactive payments instead could be walking the street looking for a job or working for another non-union railroad that provides fewer benefits and pays lower wages.

McCain’s anti-Amtrak statements would fill an encyclopedia.

John McCain has the reputation of being tough and a straight shooter. He gladly wears the badge of anti-special interests and anti-lobbyists.

I am sure he always thinks about as he is going up the steps of some major railroad’s private jet, flying to his next campaign stop.

Who do you think pays for these trips on private planes for McCain and his staff at a cost of thousands of dollars? It is corporate and special interests.

John McCain does not look on railroad CEOs and their planes as symbols of special interests – they are just his friends.

While the Democrats are fighting like the Hatfields and McCoys, McCain will use the next months to raise tons of money while the Democrats are wasting their ammunition on each other.

John McCain will use the next several months to travel across the country healing the fractures within his own party.

All of the economic improvements expected by working families will fall by the wayside if the Democrats don’t soon recognize who is their true opponent.

John McCain is a strong opponent of trade unions and a national health-care program.

I hope that we wake up before it is too late.

The FELA puts on railroads the costs of the legs, arms, eyes and lives it consumes in its operation

Minnesota

The UTU has endorsed Al Franken for election to the U.S. Senate from Minnesota, State Legislative Director Phil Quady announced last month.

"This is a gentleman that can win," Quady said. "This is a gentleman that can speak to our values and fight the hard fight in the U.S. Senate." Franken thanked the UTU members for their support and urged frontline advocates for the rights of unions and working people, "I believe in unions," he said. "Unions built the middle class in this country and have to rebuff it again." Franken hopes to win the DFL nomination to run against Republican incumbent Norm Coleman in November. He said that, if elected, he would work to overturn the policies implemented by President George Bush and Coleman that are undermining the standard of living for working families in the United States.

Texas

At its recent reorganization meeting, the Texas Legislative Board re-elected all executive committee members unanimously. Re-elected were C.M. "Connie" English Jr. (L-489, San Antonio) as state director; David M. Arterburn (L-1313, Amarillo) as assistant state director; Kenneth E. Holman (L-1524, Houston) as chairperson; David J. Bludau (L-953, Victoria) as vice chairperson; James M. Homan Jr. (L-524, Palestine) as vice chairperson, and Steven T. Saunders (L-508, Smithville) as secretary. English also held a legislative workshop at which he made a PowerPoint presentation to educate all local legislative representatives of their responsibilities to the membership. During the workshop, English presented plaques to Joseph L. Stubble Jr., legislative representative of Local 773, Galveston, commending the local for having the largest total UTU PAC contribution in Texas during 2007, and to Saunders, legislative representative of Local 508, Smithville, commending that local for having the highest per-capita UTU PAC contribution in Texas during 2007.

Members of the Kentucky Legislative Board convened recently to elect officers and conduct other business. Shown above, left to right, are Local 1190 (Ludlow) Legislative Rep. Andy Volpenhein, who also serves as secretary of the board, Local 1328 (Louisville) Legislative Rep. Brian Brock, Local 1318 (Covington) Legislative Rep. William J. Jim Pierce; Local 630 (Ashland) Legislative Rep. Rodney D. Betts, who also serves as legislative chairperson; Local 376 (Louisville) Legislative Rep. Terence Tyrell; Local 1567 (Corbin) Legislative Rep. Donnie Head, who also serves as assistant state legislative director; Missouri State Legislative Director Ken Menges; UTU Auxiliary President Carol Menges, and State Legislative Director David Miracle (L-573, Danville).

West Virginia

The West Virginia State Legislative Board has officially endorsed Joe DeLong for the office of Secretary of State in the 2008 election.

"Joe DeLong is a good friend to labor and to the UTU. We could never get our foot in the door before," said State Legislative Director Mark Mowshaw, speaking of the access DeLong has provided to the political process. DeLong, 34, the youngest person ever to serve as majority leader in the House of Delegates, was a former West Virginia University football standout. Pictured above, from left to right, are Mowshaw, West Virginia House Majority Leader Joe DeLong (D) and Local 605 (Bayrum) Legislative Rep. Jeff Greene.

Utah

State Legislative Director F. Jay Seegmiller, who recently defeated Utah House Speaker Greg Curtis two years ago, is challenging him again.

Seegmiller, a Democrat, will run in Utah’s District 49 in Salt Lake County. Curtis, a Republican, won by just 20 votes in 2006. Many voters were unhappy with him over his support for a professional soccer stadium in Sandy.

Seegmiller says his priorities include changing Utah laws on campaign finance and ethics in the legislature.

Our priority is always the safety of members

The safety of our members in the work place has been – and will always be – a priority of this union and its officers. More and more, we are experiencing passenger assaults on drivers. Any environment where a bus operator fears for his or her safety or equity, safety and traffic sharing the highway, because when coach operators must concern themselves with possible assaults, they cannot fully concentrate on safe driving.

Some agencies are providing enclosures for drivers. In Washington, D.C., for example, where the number of assaults on bus drivers has tripled since 2002, a clear, plastic shield is being inserted between the driver’s seat and the fare box. Also, Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority is experimenting with an enclosure.

While some enclosures being tested protect drivers from assailants, they may block the escape route for the driver and passengers in the event of a collision. Protective enclosures should permit the driver to exit the bus quickly and without impeding the escape of passengers. We urge also that protective shields be manually operated and not be connected to the front frame of the coach, so such construction could cause the shield to collapse into or onto the driver in a front-end collision.

Driver safety is one of many issues I am discussing with local officers and members.

Recently, I visited locals 710 and 759 in Newark, N.J.; Local 1406 in Riverside, Calif.; Local 1584 in Lancaster, Calif.; Local 1589 in New Brunswick, N.J.; Local 1741 in San Francisco; and Local 1785 in Santa Monica, Calif. In these meetings, we also discussed their members’ concerns regarding the union. I am very impressed with the leadership of the locals and their desire to serve their memberships.

Finally, congratulations to General Chairperson Nelson Manzano and his committee in negotiating an excellent contract for members on the Red and Tan Lines in northern New Jersey. (See complete story, page 9)

IRAs and Flexible Premium Deferred Annuities

These products are currently crediting 4.25 percent interest

The Traditional IRA and Roth IRA are specialized savings plans authorized by the federal government to help you accumulate funds for retirement.

If you receive wages, salary or commission compensation, you may contribute up to $5,000 to a Traditional or Roth IRA in 2008. If you are age 50 or older, you may contribute up to $6,000.

Depending on your income level, and if you choose a Traditional IRA, you may be able to deduct some or all of your contribution on your federal tax return. The Roth IRA is a tax deductible.

While both IRA types allow for the tax-free accumulation of investment earnings over the life of the fund, the primary difference is that a Roth IRA allows you to contribute even after age 70 1/2, and withdraw funds at retirement without paying any federal income tax. Depending on your particular situation, you may want to take the tax deductibility of current-year contributions (Traditional) or the exemption from federal taxes at retirement (Roth). Depending on your particular situation, you may want to alternate your contributions between the two from year to year.

The Flexible Premium Deferred Annuity (FPDA) is an insurance product. It has the same benefit as an IRA of having your investment earnings accumulate tax free until withdrawal. There are no limits on your contributions to an FPDA and any amount can be contributed at any time, subject to a $25 minimum.

At retirement, you may choose to receive a lump sum, or as is more common, a series of periodic payments. We offer several options to best serve your needs. Upon death, the annuity value will be paid directly to your beneficiary, avoiding the expenses, delays and frustrations of probate.

Call us, toll-free, at (800) 558-8842 and we will have a field supervisor contact you directly.

Available later this year

It is estimated that about 1,444,920 new cancer cases will be diagnosed in 2008. Cancer will strike one out of every two men and one out of every three women. It is the second leading cause of death, exceeded only by heart disease. And, one out of four people in the U.S. will die of cancer.

These statistics are alarming, but true. Cancer will affect the lives of many people, and the costs associated with cancer treatment can be devastating, not only to the person who is diagnosed with this terrible disease, but to their family members as well. Later this year, UTUIA will be offering to its members a new and upgraded Cancer Plan. The benefits include:

- First Diagnosis Benefit – $1,000
- Hospital Confinement Benefit – $300 per day
- Home Recovery and Convalescent Benefit – $100 per day
- Extended Stay Benefit – $600 per day
- Bone Marrow Transplant Benefit – $15,000

Less than $1.00 a day covers you and your entire family!

There is no “lifetime maximum” on the money you can collect from this plan!

New Miami, Fla., chapter to meet

A new UTU for Life chapter is being established to serve retired members and their spouses in the South Florida area.

The group will hold its inaugural meeting on Monday, April 21, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Original Pancake House, 9903 W. 41st St., Miami. The chapter is being organized by Kenneth Brooks, a 43-year-old retired conductor and former local chairperson off CSX and a member of Local 1136 in Miami, Fla.

An invitation has been sent to about 200 retirees living in the area. Those wishing to attend the chapter’s first meeting are encouraged to return to Brooks the postcard enclosed with the letter. Brooks can also be reached by calling (305) 816-5826 or through e-mail at bigk7344@aol.com.

Former NS chair R.L. Mann passes

Former Norfolk Southern General Chairperson R.L. Mann has passed away. He was 82 years old.

Mann joined UTU-predecessor union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in 1962. He was elected chairperson of Local 971 in Crewe, Va., in 1970 and general chairperson of Norfolk & Western (now Norfolk Southern) general committee GO 680 in 1972. He retired from that position in 1986.

Mann came from a railroad family. His father, Leslie Edward Mann, worked in the yard at Crewe. His brothers, Edward Randolph and Richard Courtmney, also worked on the railroad. His son, Leslie Earl Mann, is currently working on the railroad as a yardmaster in Crewe, and his son-in-law, James B. Ingle Jr., worked on the railroad as a clerk and dispatcher for many years, before becoming a Virginia state trooper.

Want your stimulus payment? Here’s what you need to know

Starting in May, the U.S. Treasury will begin sending economic stimulus payments to more than 130 million individuals.

Most taxpayers do not need to take any extra steps to receive these payments. However, some Railroad Retirement annuitants, Social Security beneficiaries, and recipients of certain veterans’ benefits, who might not otherwise need to file a 2007 tax return, must do so to receive the stimulus payment.

The return must show at least $3,000 in qualifying income.

Qualifying income includes Social Security benefits, the Social Security Equivalent Benefit (SSEB) portion of a Railroad Retirement Tier I benefit, certain veterans’ benefits and earned income, such as wages and net earnings from self-employment that are includable in income.

For people filing joint tax returns, only a total of $3,000 of qualifying income from both spouses is required.

A form 1040A illustration on the IRS Web site (www.irs.gov) shows the limited number of lines that need to be filled out by recipients of Social Security, Railroad Retirement and veterans’ benefits who are not required to file an income tax return but are doing so to receive a stimulus payment.

The key line for reporting 2007 benefits is Line 14a of Form 1040A.

RETRENSO retirees to meet in Delmont

Pennsylvania Railroad, Penn Central and Conrail retirees living in western Pennsylvania are invited to a reunion dinner on Sunday, May 18, at the Lamplighter Restaurant on Route 22 in Delmont, Pa.

The event will kick off with a social hour at 3 p.m. with dinner to follow. The cost is $18 per person.

The event, the 26th annual, is sponsored by the Retiremen Club, which stands for Retired Trainmen and Enginemen Social Club.

“In addition to retired trainmen and engine- men, retirees from other departments of the railroads are invited to attend this affair,” said A.W. “Jack” Powers, organizer of the event.

Powers, a member of the UTU for Life program and member of Local 1948, Youngstown, Ohio, is a retired trainmaster who worked at Pitt Tower in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Two retirees honored for civil-rights activism

Two UTU retirees, Thomas H. Mack and Clarence D. Baumgardner, both of Local 655 in Bluefield, W. Va., were honored recently by Gov. Joe Manchin as West Vir- giniaans who played significant roles in the civil-rights movement.

Mack and Baumgardner, along with Local 655 member Fennesse Trigg Jr., were part of a group who in 1971 fought, and were success- sful, to bring equality to rail hiring and promotion practices.

The Final Call

Following are the names of recently deceased retirees who maintained annual membership in the UTU Retiree Program (formerly known as the UTU Retiree Program), according to reports received at UTU International Headquarters. These brothers and sisters will be missed by their many friends and by fellow UTU for Life members.

MEET YOUR DESIGNATED LEGAL COUNSEL

There is no more dangerous work environment than on the railroads, where injuries too often are severe. The Federal Employers’ Liability Act (FELA) makes railroads accountable for unsafe working conditions. Railroads retain skilled attorneys to protect their interests. You also have access to skilled and experienced attorneys who understand the railroad industry, its safety hazards, and every aspect of the FELA. They are the UTU Designated Legal Counsel, chosen for their special knowledge and experience. Their job is to represent you.

Railroading is more than a job; it is a way of life with its own culture, challenges and dangers: UTU Designated Legal Counsel is selected for their strong legal skills, in addition to their thorough knowledge of railroads and railroading. Our understanding of railroading, coupled with our proven track records, make UTU Designated Legal Counsel uniquely qualified to represent your interests when injured.

“Every year, hundreds of railroad employees are injured on the job, but few consult a UTU-designated attorney. Instead, they turn to a railroad claims representative, which is not in their best interests. All UTU Designated Legal Counsel have a responsibility to protect your rights and see that you get the financial settlement you deserve under the FELA.”

THE UTU INTERNATIONAL STAFF: HERE TO SERVE YOU

JOE SHIVAK
Joe Shivak is director of the UTU International Supply Department. UTU BUS LINES

Teach children the ABCs of school-bus safety

It is important to teach children basic safety rules to be followed when boarding or exiting a school bus. Here are suggestions, courtesy of the U.S. National Safety Council:
• Always wait on a sidewalk until the bus comes to a complete stop and the doors open. Never wait on a street, road or alley;
• Make sure that the driver can always see you. Never walk behind the bus;
• If crossing in front of the bus, walk at least 10 feet in front of it, until you can turn around and easily see the driver;
• Pay careful attention to traffic, traffic signals and signs from the driver about when it is safe to cross the street;
• Use the bus handrail to climb up or down the steps.

Red and Tan drivers ratify new contract

UTU-represented shuttle-bus drivers employed by Red and Tan have ratified a new contract with the company.

The drivers, members of Local 719 in Newark, N.J., shuttle airport passengers and employees around the grounds of the huge Newark airport.

According to General Chairperson Nelson Manzano, the drivers negotiated improvements in pay; a higher starting rate for new drivers; a proactive-wage payment and quarterly wage increases.

The drivers also were able to maintain the same health-care benefits they enjoyed previously in the face of determined efforts by the company to reduce them.

Manzano said he appreciated the efforts of Alternate Vice President-Bus-East Richard Deiss; Vice General Chairperson James Powell and Secretary/Treasurer Jose Rivera for their hard work during negotiations.

Public-transit ridership at 50-year record

U.S. mass-transit ridership rose to its highest levels in a half century last year as higher gas prices and crowded roads led to more use of buses, subways and commuter trains, the American Public Transportation Association announced last month.

Americans took 10.3 billion trips on public transportation last year, an increase of 2.1 percent from 2006 and the highest ridership in 50 years, the group said.

Light rail, which includes streetcars and trolleys, led the increase, with ridership rising 6.1 percent in 2007, driven by surges in New Orleans, Denver, St. Louis and Philadelphia.

Commuter-rail ridership rose 5.5 percent, led by Nashville; Santa Fe, N.M., and Harrisburg, Pa.

The largest commuter-train service, New York’s Long Island Rail Road, had the most passengers in almost 60 years, according to the organization.

Railroad accidents decline for third consecutive year

The number of train accidents across the U.S. declined for the third consecutive year, according to preliminary 2007 data released last month by U.S. Department of Transportation Secretary Mary E. Peters.

Comparing the preliminary full-year 2007 data to 2006, Peters stated that last year’s railroad industry experienced a record low of 406 train accidents nationwide, or a 13.7 percent reduction. California (down 46), Texas (down 45) and New York (down 30) had the largest drops in train accidents that experienced reductions, she said.

Also, last year the number of highway/road grade crossing incidents fell by 6.9 percent and grade-crossing fatalities decreased by 8.1 percent, to 339. And, trespass fatalities, the number-one cause of all rail-related deaths, decreased by 6.2 percent, to 486.

FRA Administrator Joseph Boardman said that in 2007 the FRA added two new automated track-inspection vehicles to its fleet, enabling the agency to triple the number of track-miles inspected annually; announced approval of new positive train-control (PTC) technology for deployment in regular freight rail service; issued a proposed rule to encourage expanded use of safer electronically controlled pneumatic (ECP) train-braking systems, and undertook several wide-ranging grade-crossing safety initiatives.

Thus far in 2008, the FRA issued a final rule designed to reduce common operating-practice mistakes that result in nearly half of all human-factor caused train accidents. And, later this year, the FRA said it intends to issue a proposed rule to strengthen the design standards and structural integrity of tank cars that carry hazardous materials, Boardman said.

Peters praised the railroad industry for making important contributions toward improving rail safety and for its continuing cooperation with FRA’s safety programs.

“Our strong focus on improving rail safety is achieving significant results for three years running now,” Peters said, noting there have been 833 fewer train accidents, or a 24.6 percent reduction, when comparing the period from 2004 to 2007.

Peters stressed that some of the safety gains are attributable to aggressive implementation of the FRA’s National Rail Safety Action Plan first launched in May 2005. The plan focuses on the most frequent, highest-risk causes of train accidents; optimizes the use of data to target federal inspection and enforcement resources; and accelerates research initiatives that hold promise to mitigate the greatest potential safety risks.

“We are targeting our safety activities on specific problem areas,” Boardman said, highlighting that the two leading causes of train accidents — human error and track — have declined 28.8 percent and 15.7 percent, respectively, since 2004.

This agreement provides us with significant wage increases, with no loss of work rules, plus other valuable provisions.

Assistant President Arti Martain explained that “we gained arbitration of the entry-rates issue, which will begin 30 days following contract ratification — and it will be by arbitrators we will have a hand in choosing, and with our negotiating team making our case.”

“We reject the agreement, it is highly unlikely that a Presidential Emergency Board appointed solely by President Bush will address the issue,” Martin said.

UTU General Counsel Clint Miller and National Legislative Director James Brunkhoefner agreed, with each explaining that once a pattern is established in national negotiations — as is the case with the round of negotiations — there is no record of a PEB straying from that pattern.

UTU International Vice President Tony Lannon, who participated in the Amtrak negotiations, reported that a PEB in those talks recommended following the pattern reached between freight railroads and other crafts.

“The bottom line,” Futhy said, “is that this agreement will provide our members with significant wage increases, with no loss of work rules, plus other valuable provisions.”
Regional meetings offer information, fraternity

The evening of the first day has been left unscheduled so you, your family and friends will be free to explore and enjoy the many offerings of the regional meeting cities.

Neither Denver nor Nashville has been designated the joint U.S.-Canadian regional meeting. Canadian members are free to attend the meeting that interests them. All those attending the regional meetings must be registered in order to attend any planned social function. Children ages 11 and under who are pre-registered are complimentary. The registration form is printed on the right.

A completed registration form listing each attendee, regardless of age, and including pre-payment in U.S. funds must be received at the UTU International Headquarters, 14600 Detroit Ave., Cleveland, OH 44107. 30 days prior to the scheduled start of the meeting or the registrait will be charged a on-site registration fee of $200.

The pre-registration fee for the 2008 regional meetings is $150 per member, spouse or child over age 11. Additional fees apply for the golf outing. You must make your own room reservations, and certain deadlines apply. The $150 registration fee covers all workshop materials, a welcoming reception the night before the meeting, two lunches; one evening meal, and a breakfast buffet. Those wishing to attend only the workshops do not need to pay the registration fee. No one-day registrations will be offered. You may cancel your regional meeting registration 10 days prior to the first day of the meeting or the golf outing without penalty. Bates makes history as UTU’s first Afro-American legislative director

In a historic and proud moment for the UTU, William “Willie” Bates was elected in March as the first African-American legislative director in the 140-year history of the union and its predecessor organizations.

In 1992, Bates was elected local president, and vice local chairperson in 2000. In 1981, he hired on as a conductor on the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad (now part of CSX), and in 1986 moved to Amtrak between Richmond, Va., and Washington, D.C.

“I am honored by the confidence placed in me to serve as a catalyst for improved railroad safety,” Bates said. “The UTU provides each of us with better working conditions than we could achieve individually.”

National Legislative Director James Brunkenhoefer said, “I am confident Brother Bates will do a similarly impressive job as Steve Fritter, and I am looking forward to working with him.”

Brunkenhoefer praised Fritter as “a legislative director who accomplished an awful lot behind the scenes, and who was especially skilled in delivering during periods of turmoil.”

Bates said, “I have big shoes to fill. Steve always went above and beyond, and will be missed enormously.”
