Obama appoints PEB 244 in Long Island Rail Road dispute

Following years of failed negotiations with the New York Metropolitan Transportation Authority’s Long Island Rail Road, the official proceedings of Presidential Emergency Board 244 (PEB 244) began Dec. 2, 2013, at the New York Hilton in New York City.

MTA had been seeking three years of “net zero” wage increases and major concessions from labor on pension contributions, health and welfare contributions and work rule changes.

The hearings, including testimony from various industry and financial experts, legal counsel and union leadership, were a clear indication of the commitment of the SMART Transportation Division’s leadership to its membership of General Committee of Adjustment 505 on the Long Island Rail Road.

GO 505 General Chairperson Anthony Simon was joined by Transportation Division President John Previsich, Transportation Division Vice President John Lemsiewski and members of GO 505 throughout the hearings as a coalition of unions worked tirelessly throughout the week to prepare and deliver labor’s case and arguments before the board.

Simon has maintained a commitment to utilize the process of the Railway Labor Act in obtaining a fair agreement for the 2,500 SMART members employed on the LIRR.

“After an intensive and relentless week of deliberations, I can say that our organizations left no stones unturned during these proceedings. We presented an excellent case before the board and we are determined to fight for our members in order to obtain a fair and well-deserved agreement for all,” he said.

SMART International Representative Charles Fraley and SMART General Chairperson John McCloskey were also in attendance and participated in the process, showing solidarity among the transportation and sheet metal divisions of SMART.

SMART General President Joe Nigro has been kept informed of all matters in this ongoing dispute and has been supportive throughout the process, Simon said.

The board was provided an extensive history relative to other agreements in the industry, along with detailed financial information relative to the MTA’s ability to meet labor’s demands. The MTA has a robust financial plan that includes service restorations and extensive capital improvements, while standing firm on its unwillingness to provide wage increases to its represented workforce.

President Barack Obama Nov. 22 signed an executive order creating the Presidential Emergency Board 244 to help resolve the ongoing dispute between the Long Island Rail Road and some of its employees.

According to the White House, PEB 244 will provide a structure for the two sides to resolve their disagreements. The board will hear evidence and, within 30 days, will deliver a report to the president recommending how the dispute should be resolved.

Legislative Office educates lawmakers on H.R. 3040

The SMART Transportation Division (formerly UTU) is beginning preparations for its June 2014 convention. All SMART Transportation Division (SMART TD) Locals are reminded of the need to have a duly elected delegate and alternate delegate, as well as a working local seal, prior to the convention.

Locals with vacancies in either position must conduct elections as soon as possible, and advise the SMART TD office of the results.

Guidance on holding elections can be downloaded from the TD website at www.utu.org by clicking on the “S&T Tools” link, then scrolling to the bottom of the “Forms and Documents” column and clicking on “More forms…” to get to the following page: http://utu.org/secretary-treasurer-forms.

Documents on that page include “How to Hold Elections for Delegate, LC As 2010,” as well as “Special Circular No. 28 – August 2010,” and “Department of Labor Guide on Conducting Local Union Officer Elections,” which offer guidance on conducting delegate and alternate delegate elections. Those with additional questions should contact the SMART TD office at (216) 228-9400.

Locals are also reminded billings must be current as of April 2014 to be assured their delegate will be seated at the SMART TD convention set for June 30 through July 2, 2014, in San Diego, Calif.

Meanwhile, efforts are continuing toward finalizing the SMART Constitution, Article 21(b) of which will govern the SMART TD. Upon completion, the entire SMART Constitution will be posted on the website. Further instructions will be issued regarding submission of proposed constitutional amendments, as well as how Locals should conduct elections if additional delegates are warranted to attend the SMART Convention scheduled for Aug. 11-15, 2014, in Las Vegas, Nev.

Members and family of this local rang bells for the Salvation Army during “Union Day” at the Battlefield Mall in Springfield, Mo., legislative Rep. Jeff Nichols reports. Each local from different Springfield area labor unions were assigned to one or more of 17 different entrances to the mall Dec. 7 and manned the red kettles over the 10-hour event. The event was organized by the Springfield Labor Council, AFL-CIO, in partnership with United Way of the Ozarks. Additional photographs can be found on Facebook by searching United Way of the Ozarks. “And yes, it was cold,” Nichols said.

Thirty operating employees from Union Pacific Railroad in the La Grande area who retired or left employment on disability in 2013 were honored at a retirement party Nov. 23. SMART Transportation Division Local Chairperson Larry Romine reports. The 30 members of both the SMART TD and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Trainmen have more than 1,000 years of combined railroad service. Romine said the event included a variety of food, music, dancing, a no-host bar and a railroad archives room. State New York Daily News newspaper’s Hometown Heroes in Transportation Award on Dec. 16 at the Bay Terrace Station when a man approached her cab window and asked, “When is the next express bound train coming to the platform?"

“He looked distressed, sweating, and looked like he’d been crying. He told me he was short on cash and he would never see her again. His son was eight-years old. That’s when it hit home.”

“His reasons for wanting to jump were over our everyday dealings. Stress due to work, bills and feeling belittled by his wife.”

“I told him, we all work, because we have bills. If your marriage doesn’t work out, it won’t be the first, or the last. I said, ‘If your concern is for your son, why would you want to kill yourself and leave someone else to tend to him? I myself have stress, and two kids, but I don’t look toward death. In December, Levasseur stopped on a holiday taping of the Rachel Ray Show, which featured other individuals who had been honored as heroes in the past year.

State Railroad Supervisor Danielle Marino nominated Levasseur for the newspaper’s annual award. “I definitely think that, with her quick thinking, her caring, and her ability to calm him down, she saved his life,” Marino said.

“I haven’t seen him again, but I would love to,” Levasseur said. “I would like to meet his son, too.”

What is most distressing is that Levasseur has experienced two more suicide-related incidents since. “It’s cool to save a person’s life, but, at the same time, I don’t want to live that.”

“We have to make the best of whatever we have. I got home that evening and hugged my kids. Just when I think we have it bad, someone out there has it worse.”

State Senator Tommy Hulsaker conducted Naholyta “Joyce” Levasseur outside one of the trains where she questioned a suicidal man not to jump on the tracks.

I may have the chance to get to a meeting and tell you all face-to-face how much it meant to me. I really don’t have the words to express the gratitude for the heartfelt gifts that were given to us. The engraved poker watch is beautiful, and I will cherish it. If it be something that I will be proud to pass on to my grandchildren...I already miss the fraternity of railroaders that I was proud to work with. Be safe, and know that you all are in my prayers, as I hope you will have me in yours. God bless you all.”

Retired General Chairpersons Emert, Smith die

Former Norfolk Southern General Chairperson Paul E. Emert, 65, died Nov. 11 following a heart attack.

Emert, a member of SMART Transportation Division Local 750 at Knoxville, Tenn., retired in 2011 following 39 years of railroad service.

He had served as general chairperson of NS General Committee of Adjustment GO 898 since 2002 and had also served his local as chairperson, local secretary & treasurer and delegate.

Prior to his railroad service, Emert was honorably discharged from the U.S. Army. He was a deacon at Riverview Missionary Baptist Church for 37 years.

He is survived by his wife of 46 years, Vickie; daughter and son-in-law, April and Rusty Turbyfill; son, Jed Emert and friend Angie Thompson; son and daughter-in-law, Justin and Kimberly Emert, and 10 grandchildren.

Timothy J. Smith, 66, died Nov. 28 after a hard fought battle with pulmonary fibrosis.

Smith worked 30 years as an engineer for Lake Terminal Railroad in Lorain, Ohio, with 22 of those years serving as general chairperson. He was a member of the former UTU Local 1391 at Lorain. He was a dedicated union leader willing to help out anyone in need.

Following his graduation from Admiral King High School in 1963, Smith enlisted in the U.S. Army and served his country honorably for three years.

He is survived by his wife, Cathy; sons, Timothy B. Smith and Kevin A. Smith, and granddaughter, Katie.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Pulmonary Fibrosis Foundation at www.pulmonaryfibrosis.org/donate. Online condolences may be sent using www.thesigneralhome.com.

NS GO 898 secretary completes marathon

As the office secretary for Norfolk Southern General Committee of Adjustment GO 898, Kimberly Emert knows a thing or two about running an office. And, according to General Chairperson Mark Cook, she knows something about running, too.

In November, Emert competed in the Indianapolis Monumental Marathon. It was Emert’s second complete marathon and her time of 4:35:40 over the standard length of 26.2 miles was her personal best.

Emert is used to pushing paper with her daily duties of handling time claims, dismissals and public law boards, and now she is pushing herself.

“Actually, I didn’t start running until about five years ago,” Emert said. “At the time, I was very overweight. I got in with a crazy group of friends from our local track club and we started training with the same coach. I’ve lost about 90 pounds.”

With a race date of Nov. 2, the marathon started at a chilly 38 degrees, but Emert said it was a great day for running. “I shed all of my extra clothing after about a mile and a half,” she finished 185th out of 280 in her division, based on age group, and finished 2,427 overall.

Emert, 34, is the daughter-in-law of former General Chairperson Paul Emert, who died in November. She is married to Justin Emert and started working for the general committee office in 2003.

And she’s looking forward to her next race.

“There’s a point during the race when you think, ‘I’ll never do this again,’ but when it’s over, I know I would.”

Metra, Belt Railway members ratify contracts

SMART Transportation Division conductors and assistant conductors on Northern Illinois Regional Commuter Railroad Corp. – known as Metra – and members of General Committee of Adjustment GO 65 employed by Belt Railway of Chicago have recently ratified new contracts.

With 85 percent of eligible ballots returned, the Metra employees approved a seven-year mediation agreement governing wages and working conditions, through calendar year 2018.

Included in the agreement are lump-sum signing bonuses, general wage increases each year of the contract, retroactive pay, enhanced deferred compensation, conductor certification pay for assignments paying the conductor rate of pay, a new training/qualifying understanding, a modified short term disability plan and seniority retention provisions.

SMART Transportation Division Vice President John E. Lesniewski and SMART International Representative John Bailor, who assisted with negotiations, commended GO 721 General Chairperson Barry Abbott for his persistent and systematic attentiveness to the needs of our membership on his property. In turn, Abbott offered his thanks to Lesniewski and Bailor for “bringing a wealth of experience and an enduring commitment to the bargaining table. This was truly a team effort,” he said.

Metra is the commuter rail division of the Illinois Regional Transportation Authority. The system serves Chicago and its metropolitan area through 241 stations on 11 different rail lines.

SMART Transportation Division members employed by Belt Railway of Chicago ratified a new agreement governing their rates of pay and working conditions.

The agreement mirrors that of the Sept. 16, 2011, UTU National Agreement, Lesniewski said.

While GO 65 members had already been governed by the health and welfare provisions of the 2011 National Agreement by virtue of the carrier’s participation in national handling for health and welfare only, the remainder of the agreement had been stalled in mediation over disputes involving crew consist and other local issues.

“With those issues having been successfully set aside in favor of future voluntary and non-binding discussions, the agreement was ratified by an overwhelming majority of nearly 97 percent of voting members,” Lesniewski said.

Lesniewski, who assisted with the negotiations, lauded the efforts of General Chairperson Stelios Paras and Vice General Chairperson Graeme McClure for “staying the course, ultimately securing the same favorable agreement our Class 1 members enjoy nationally, without any additional strings attached.”

BRC, headquartered in Chicago, is the largest switching terminal railroad in the United States. It is co-owned by six Class I railroads, including BNSF Railway, Canadian National Railway, Canadian Pacific Railway, CSX Transportation, Norfolk Southern Railway and Union Pacific Railroad, each of which uses the switching and interchange facilities. BRC also provides rail terminal services to approximately 100 local manufacturing industries.
Arbitrator’s award will help us form a new Constitution

Happy Holidays! On behalf of the staff and officers of this great organization, I want to extend our wishes to all of our members and their loved ones for a joyous and safe holiday season.

May you and your families enjoy peace, good health and good cheer with our warmest thoughts and best wishes for a wonderful holiday and a prosperous and happy New Year.

In last month’s column, I promised to keep you, the membership, updated on a regular basis regarding events that are of interest to you.

One of the most important developments that has occurred since the writing of last month’s column is that we have now received the merger-related arbitration award anticipated in that column.

I am pleased to report that the award gives the parties good guidance on a number of issues that should allow us to move forward to a satisfactory resolution of the few remaining constitutional issues.

I am pleased to report that the award gives the parties good guidance on a number of issues that should allow us to move forward to a satisfactory resolution of the few remaining constitutional issues. Discussions are underway and although not completed at the time of this writing, the parties are confident that final resolution is near.

Resolution of the constitution is important for a number of reasons. As intended by the merger agreement and subsequent arbitration awards, a completed constitution will resolve conflicts between the former governing documents of both organizations to permit the consolidation of the two documents into one.

That one document will be known as the Constitution of the International Association of Sheet Metal, Air, Rail and Transportation Workers (SMART) and this constitution will govern all aspects of the combined organization.

When completed, the new constitution will be in full force and effect. Thereafter, the constitution can be changed or modified in accordance with its terms.

Completion of the combined constitution is a significant milestone in the merger process.

All of us who have been working on this difficult task are looking forward to having the document completed and distributed at the earliest possible date.

When ready, it will be posted immediately and will be followed up with additional information related to the upcoming conventions. That information will include guidance for locals and delegates on procedures to submit constitutional proposals to the conventions, selection of additional Transportation Division delegates to the SMART convention in August, and other matters of interest.

In addition to the constitution, efforts are continuing on a number of other fronts. The coming year will include continued work to consolidate the two organizations, two conventions – a June/July Transportation Division convention in San Diego and an August SMART convention in Las Vegas – the opening of the next round of bargaining on a national agreement, implementation of the requirements of the Affordable Care Act on our National Health Plans and numerous other issues and demands that are a part of the business of representing our members interests.

In the legislative arena, we will continue our efforts to move the two-person crew bill, H.R. 3040, in the House of Representatives and to promote the interests of our members with legislators and regulatory agencies in Washington and across the country.

Happy Holidays!

John Previsich
President, SMART Transportation Division

As this year comes to a close, we extend season’s greetings to you and your family.

The past 12 months saw us move forward together in brotherhood and solidarity after coming together as one unified union. Together, we are stronger on all fronts, working to increase membership, addressing common issues on the legislative front, and representing our members to ensure their interests are best served.

While we give special thanks for our blessings, let’s remain mindful of those whose holiday season will not be merry and bright. There are many who will depend on the kindness and solidarity of family and friends to see them through this season.

On behalf of the SMART General Executive Council, we wish you the very best of happiness, good health and success in the coming year in fulfilling a bright future for this great union.

Fraternally,

John Previsich

Krohn said that if the subsidy is provided, it may cost the city thousands of real and part-time jobs, because the team’s new arena will be built near the port. “We don’t care if they build an arena somewhere, it’s the location that is the issue,” Krohn said. “We have to protect those jobs.” Visit www.sonicswithoutsubsides.org for additional information.

Bus Department

Addition of new members brings additional responsibility

I hope this edition of the SMART Transportation Division News finds that all our members enjoyed a safe and happy holiday season.

The SMART TD has been successful in recent organizing campaigns, adding new members to our union in general, and the bus department in particular. With the addition of new members comes the task of getting good work agreements. I will work with the Bus Department to do just that.

When comparing our labor agreements with other organizations, I am proud to say the SMART-TD has secured some of the very best agreements in the bus industry. We represent the finest operators on the roads today and with their help, we were able to secure those agreements. With the Republican Party’s continued assault on organized labor, now is the time for us to stand strong and deliver.

I want to thank our legislative officers in Washington, D.C., for staying abreast of the ever-changing regulations from the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration and for providing us with the necessary tools to make sure our members are some of the most well informed operators in our industry. I also want to thank the SMART-TD leadership for providing the same. With their support, now is the time to make this bus department bigger and stronger than ever. To achieve this goal, we must work harder and be wiser in getting our message out to our members. We will stand side by side and not be bullied by anyone trying to undermine the important contributions we make to the communities we serve.

I am proud to congratulate the entire negotiating committee of Local 1715 in Charlotte, N.C., where our membership recently ratified a new three-year agreement.

I am also proud to welcome the operators of First Transit in New Brunswick, N.J., who by more than a 90 percent margin, voted to join our bus family. Brothers and sisters, thank you for all that you do to keep this union strong. It is you, the membership, whom we all serve.

Local 1715 averts strike, gets new three-year deal

SMART Transportation Division Local 1715 bus operators employed by Transit Management of Charlotte, Inc., Dec. 12 ratified a three-year agreement with management, averting a possible strike.

The new agreement calls for annual wage increases, paid retroactively to July 1, plus the return of travel-time pay, a contract provision that previously had been negotiated away when the operators were represented by the Teamsters. The contract also calls for an additional personal day and new bidding procedures during the run assignment that is more favorable to SMART membership.

The company is also required to use a health care provider supported by the union, or one that is comparable, resulting in a reduction in the health care contributions paid by our members.

SMART TD Alternate Vice President Calvin Studivant participated in the recent negotiations with Charlotte’s Transit Management when a strike by the operators appeared likely. He recognized the efforts of General Chairperson Kevin Moss, Vice General Chairpersons Hasson Trent and Brenda Moore, Local President Bruce Wright and Local Committee Secretary William R. Brown for their tireless efforts in “resolving the issues at hand and working to get their members the best possible contract.”

Studivant also thanked Vice General Chairpersons Christy Kiser and Donnell Taylor and Local Secretary & Treasurer Christopher Johnson for their roles in reaching the agreement.

“A lot of the bus operators here, we have families as well. We know the impact a strike would have caused on the people in the community,” said Moss.

“This has been a period of difficult negotiations, but we ended up with an agreement that’s within our financial parameters,” said Carolyn Flowers, CATS CEO.

FMCSA operation removes 52 unsafe bus companies

The U.S. Department of Transportation’s Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) announced Dec. 12 that 52 bus companies and 140 vehicles were put out of business and removed from the road as a result of Operation Quick Strike, an eight-month effort to shut down unsafe motorcoach companies.

“Bus travel is increasingly popular because it is a convenient, inexpensive option for students, groups and families,” said U.S. Transportation Secretary Anthony Foxx. “But it must also be safe. Through Operation Quick Strike and our regular enforcement efforts, we’re shutting down companies that put passengers at risk and educating the public on safe motorcoach travel.”

The effort was part of FMCSA’s three-phase Motorcoach Safety Initiative to raise the bar for safety in the motorcoach industry.

Q: Who is my UTUIA field supervisor and how can I contact him or her?
You should first contact your local legislative representative under your local chairperson. A list of those individuals can be found by going to www.utu.org and by clicking on “UTU/UTUA Directory” under the “About UTU” drop down menu. Then click on “Local Summaries” under the heading “UTU Locals.”

Q: I have a grievance against my employer. What do I do?
You first should talk over your predicament with your local chairperson. Go to www.utu.org and under the “About UTU” drop down menu click on “Publications and Videos” under the heading “Why UTU.” Then click on “Local Summaries” under the heading “UTU Locals.”

Q: I was injured on the job. What should I know?
The UTU has produced a booklet, How to Protect Your Rights When Injured on the Job, that outlines your rights and provides answers to many of your questions. You can view that booklet by going to our homepage at www.utu.org and by clicking on the gray “Organizing” box, then by clicking on “Support and Agreements” to be directed to the awards and agreements page of the SMART Transportation Division website. There you will be able to search a vast database of grievances and awards that you can use to help build your case.

Q: What is the Discipline Income Protection Program? What are the benefits of enrollment?
Go to www.utu.org and click on “UTUIA Field Supervisors.” There you will find a description of the program, an explanation of benefits, and an application form.

Q: I have concerns about unsafe working conditions. To whom do I express my concerns?
You can contact the PAC administrator for your local or your local chairperson and/or your local contract representative. Field supervisors are sales representatives for UTU IA products. You can contact the PAC administrator for your local by clicking on “Local Summaries” under the heading “UTU Locals.”

Q: Where can I find a list of field supervisors and their contact information, along with the locals each representative services?
Go to www.utu.org and click on “UTUIA Directory” under the “About UTU” drop down menu under “W ashington” in the gray box to be directed to a webpage that describes the PAC administrator for your local. Or, email “auditing@smart-union.org.”

Q: What are the benefits of union dues divided and spent?

Many people like to get away completely from what they did before they were retired, but not William “Bill” Namink, 64, of Wallaceburg, Ontario. For the past two years, Namink, a retired conductor and past president and local chairperson of Local 344, along with some friends and his son, have been refurbishing two locomotive switchers—a 1946 model rated at 60,000 tons and a 1958 model 45,000-ton unit.

Namink got interested in working on this project when a community colleague who had purchased the three locomotives online informed him about the project.

“After some investigation, it was quite evident that two of the three locomotives deserved further investment and to be placed back in service,” Namink said. “When I inquired and took a trip to Quebec to see the units, I took a former CN colleague of mine, Grant Raymond, a retiree who worked for CN Diesel shops. His knowledge of electronics convinced me to take on this project.”

Although restoring the locomotives proved to be challenging at times, Namink never thought about giving up.

“Whenever there was a challenge in finding the right parts, it was study, learn and ask those within the industry, and step-by-step, we got it done.”

“I have a background in mechanics and know the basics of how a locomotive works, I was able to determine which jobs had to be done first, and which had to be done last.”

Along the way, Namink and his colleagues on the project, who used reconditioned parts, replaced the engines, rewired the units and repainted them inside and out.

A good time was had by all at the annual coastal crab pickin’ and fish cookout hosted by retired railroaders Jimmy Hendley and Bobby Tutten of SMART Transportation Local 1031 at Savannah, Ga. About 50 active and retired SMART TD members attended the Oct. 13, 2013, event. “We would like to thank Georgia State Director Matt Campbell and his father and all the members who turned out for a great time that was had by all,” UTU Alumni Associate Coordinator Carl Cochran said.

“It was a great project. I have run trains from Sarnia to Toronto for years, but this was a great way to better understand all the internal workings and components. Identifying different parts of a locomotive and how and what they do. I enjoyed this challenge.

“Contrary to popular belief, the people of Africa like Americans and welcome us,” Williams said. “Although poverty’s roots run deep there, the people really are not down on themselves and the world. They are not despondent. Instead, they are good-natured and, for the most part, happy.”

In most respects, Uganda is a third world republic and a significant number of its inhabitants live in extreme poverty. Annually, the average household income of the “working urban poor” is $100. For those with jobs, small-scale farming and agriculture are the main sources of income.

The rearing and selling of local breeds of animals, such as poultry and cattle, are often the means by which people obtain sustenance. However, due to a lack of knowledge on proper agricultural methods, many of these ventures are unprofitable and fail. While working at the Rock of Ages School, Williams befriended a farmer named Abdu, whose wife, Betty, runs the school.

Williams sponsored Abdu on a trip to the U.S., where Abdu was educated on proper agricultural methods. He also assisted Abdu with drilling a hand well on his chicken farm and he provided Abdu with a cow-head catch to assist in handling Abdu’s 20 dairy cows. Thanks to Williams, Abdu’s newfound skills and equipment have improved productivity and revenues on his farm.

Williams’ travels to Africa have also instilled in him a strong sense of gratitude for the often unrecognized abundance that Americans enjoy. “The conditions there are very poor and it makes me so glad to be an American. Most of the time, Americans do not realize how fortunate they truly are. But coming to a place like this really opens your eyes and makes you realize that, rather than complaining about our own situations, we should be focusing on helping those who really are in need.”

The bulk of Williams’ humanitarian work is done for the Rock of Ages School. The building is in constant need of maintenance. Toward that end, he assists in organizing funding and in administration. Donations to the school and sponsorship of its children can be offered at the Rock of Ages School link on www.hands4uganda.org.

“We have a duty to help those much less fortunate than ourselves,” Williams said. “This has been the most rewarding experience in my life.”

Don’t let cancer treatment costs send your life’s savings down the drain

UTUIA’s Cancer Hospital Indemnity policy offers:

- $300 per day for hospital confinement
- $600 per day in extended stay benefits
- $100 per day for home recovery
- $2,000 first diagnosis benefit
- $15,000 bone marrow transplant benefit

Protect your family and your savings with a UTUIA Cancer Hospital Indemnity policy

UTUIA’s Cancer Hospital Indemnity policy offers peace of mind. The benefits are paid directly to the policyholder to use as he or she sees fit. Use them to meet household expenses and other continuing expenses. This policy supplements regular hospitalization insurance, thereby protecting savings. Some benefits may vary based on state of residence.

With monthly premiums starting as low as $9 per month, this plan fits into any budget.
Deal reached on same-sex couple dependent benefits

Rail labor organizations and rail management through the National Collective Bargaining Conference Committee have reached an accord to extend medical, dental and vision benefits to same-sex couples, effective Jan. 1, 2014. The plans affected are the National Railway Carriers/UTU Health and Welfare Plan, the Railroad Employees National Health and Welfare Plan, the Early Retirement Health and Welfare Plan, the Railroad Employees’ National Dental Plan and the Railroad Employees National Vision Plan.

The NOCC states that there is no requirement under applicable law or under the current collective bargaining agreement to provide this coverage, but the change was agreed upon based on recent changes to federal law allowing same-sex couples to access federal tax benefits provided to other married couples.

Railroads participating in the aforementioned health care plans will be announcing these changes on their company websites and will notify employees in the near future by mail.

The announcement comes one day after a lawsuit was filed Dec. 3 in U.S. District Court in Seattle that said same-sex spouses were routinely denied medical coverage. The employees filing the suit worked for BNSF Railway.

SMAR Transportation Division President John Previsich said the parties had recently concluded the discussions to extend benefits to same-sex married couples, and formal announcement was on hold pending the resolution of final details. That announcement was moved up, said Previsich, to inform affected members and avoid unnecessary litigation on the issue.

The Seattle suit was filed by two engineers—one man and one woman—and their same-sex spouses. It says BNSF had a “stated policy” that “one man and one woman” is what constitutes marriage. “BNSF does not get to judge what marriage is,” the suit said.

BNSF, which is owned by Omaha’s Berkshire Hathaway Inc, said the matter was properly handled through the National Railway Labor Conference, which could have handled it either through collective bargaining or, as it did, via the governing collective bargaining process.

“This was the correct way to deal with the issue, as our prior statement indicated,” said Steve Forseberg, BNSF’s director of external relations. “Changes to the plan must come through the collective bargaining process or through the plan’s governing committee, because the agreement involves multiple employers and multiple unions.”

Spouses of salaried employees in same-sex unions, Forseberg said, are eligible for health care coverage if they were married in a state where such marriages are legal. Such unions are not legal in Nebraska, where BNSF employs about 5,000 people.

Local officer gets red suit, beard was already in place

For 10 years, SMART Transportation Division engineer Rance Miller of Local 1816 has been making children in the Toledo, Ohio, area happy as that famous man in the red hat and suit.

It all started when a friend asked him to dress up as Santa Claus for his kids. The friend had already bought the suit and Miller already had the natural silver beard to go with the outfit.

“I put on the suit and people said I just evolved,” Miller said. “It all just kind of fell into place.”

Mrs. Miller joins in on the fun and dresses up as Mrs. Claus. She also makes all of Miller’s Santa outfits. He has a new vest and new lollipop-themed leather boots this year.

As Santa, Miller does a lot of charity work. If someone tries to pay him, he asks that individual to please make a donation in his or her name to the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

“Kids in hospitals are the toughest part of my job,” Miller said. “The first thing you learn is that you never, ever, promise anything that you can’t deliver, or that a parent can’t deliver. I’m never going to promise a terminally ill child that he or she is going to get better. I say Santa will.”

“Most kids who are ill don’t ask to get better. They ask, ‘Will you make sure my mom and dad, brother and sister are okay when I’m gone?’ They don’t ask for toys, they ask for their family to be okay.”

As Santa Claus, Miller gets asked a lot for puppies and other animals. “I tell the kids that Santa Claus doesn’t do live animals. Elves don’t make live animals—they make toys. I say ‘that’s up to your mom and dad, not me.’ I don’t want to promise anybody an animal when the family may not approve for whatever reason.”

“I play Santa to make people happy. If I can bring a smile to someone’s face, that’s everything. Especially in these hard times, when there are so many in need.”

“I have a lot of fun doing it. It’s free, and I don’t want to turn it into a business, because that would take the fun out of it. This is the best job I ever had in my life.”

Local President and Chairperson Rance Miller serves his community as Santa Claus when he is not serving the members of Local 1816 in Toledo, Ohio.
UTUIA Scholarship: A Key to Success

A message from UTUIA President John Previsich

Education is the key to success, and the key to an education can be a United Transportation Union Insurance Association scholarship. With college enrollment time upon us, we strongly urge all eligible persons to take a few minutes to fill out the UTUIA scholarship application form printed below and apply for a UTUIA scholarship. It will be one of the smartest things they ever do.

This is the 40th year UTUIA is making available 50 continuing $500 scholarships for its members, and the sons, daughters and grandchildren of its members. We are very proud of our scholarship program, a pride that comes from helping thousands of college students over the years.

We realize the amount awarded, $500 a year, doesn’t meet the full cost of the recipient’s education, but in this way we can help a larger number of students with educational costs. Recipients may use the scholarship money for tuition, learning materials or other related expenses.

UTUIA scholarship winners will receive the full amount of the award each year for up to four years of undergraduate study as long as they maintain a satisfactory academic record.

With a UTUIA scholarship, we hope to give the recipient the opportunity for a full-time education instead of a part-time education, day school instead of night school, higher education instead of basic training.

We are proud in knowing that UTUIA scholarship recipients are enrolled in some of the finest and most prestigious colleges and universities in the world. We also can point proudly to the many achievements of past scholarship winners who have contributed so much to our great nation.

UTUIA is proud and happy to provide these scholarships for they are an opportunity for achievement. The success of deserving students is our success and the benefits are boundless. The key to success is education, and the key to education is a UTUIA scholarship. Take a minute to apply for the chance of a lifetime.

As the saying goes: “If you think education is expensive, try ignorance.”

UTUIA Scholarship Program

Fifty continuing $500 scholarships are awarded each year upon verification of enrollment for the fall term. The scholarships are prorated according to the number of S.M.A.R.T Transportation Division members in each of nine districts. The names of the 50 scholarship winners for the academic year 2013/2014 will be drawn at UTUIA headquarters in North Olmsted after the March 31 deadline for submission of applications.

ELIGIBILITY

Requirements of a UTUIA scholarship applicant are that he or she be a U.S. citizen, at least a high school senior or equivalent, and age 25 or under.

Applicants must be associated with the UTUIA by either owning a UTUIA insurance policy, or by being the child or grandchild of a current UTUIA policyholder. Scholarship applicants must also be associated with the S.M.A.R.T Transportation Division by belonging to the union, or by being the child or grandchild of an active or lifetime S.M.A.R.T Transportation Division member.

Applicants also must be accepted for admittance, or already enrolled, for at least 12 credit hours per quarter or semester at a recognized institution of higher learning (university, college or junior college, nursing or technical school offering college credit). Graduate schools are not included. Families of full-time international officers are not eligible.

Previous scholarship winners are exempt from the new UTUIA policy. However, this exemption is for the renewal of existing scholarships only, and all new applicants must meet the UTUIA and S.M.A.R.T Transportation Division association requirements above.

AWARDS

Scholarships are awarded on the basis of chance, not grades. A UTUIA scholar, however, is expected to maintain a satisfactory academic record to keep the scholarship for the full four years.

The UTUIA Scholarship Committee decides whether individual scholarship holders connection requirement; they may renew their annual scholarship if otherwise eligible. This exemption is for the renewal of existing scholarships only, and all new applicants must meet the UTUIA and S.M.A.R.T Transportation Division association requirements above.

Whistleblowers can now file complaints online

WASHINGTON — Whistleblowers covered by one of 22 statutes administered by the U.S. Department of Labor’s Occupational Safety and Health Administration will now be able to file complaints online. The online form will provide workers who have been retaliated against an additional way to reach out for OSHA assistance online.

“The ability of workers to speak out and exercise their rights without fear of retaliation provides the backbone for some of American workers’ most essential protections,” said Assistant Secretary of Labor for Occupational Safety and Health Dr. David Michaels. “Whistleblower laws protect not only workers, but also the public at large and now workers will have an additional avenue available to file a complaint with OSHA.”

Currently, workers can make complaints to OSHA by filing a written complaint or by calling the agency’s (800) 321-OSHA (6742) number or an OSHA regional or area office. Workers will now be able to electronically submit a whistleblower complaint to OSHA by visiting https://www.osha.gov/whistleblower/WBComplaint.html.

The new online form prompts the worker to include basic whistleblower complaint information so they can be easily contacted for follow-up. Complaints are automatically routed to the appropriate regional whistleblower investigators. In addition, the complaint form can also be downloaded and submitted to the agency in hard-copy format by fax, mail or hand-delivery. The paper version is identical to the electronic version and requests the same information necessary to initiate a whistleblower investigation.

OSHA enforces the whistleblower provisions of 22 statutes protecting employees who report violations of various securities laws, trucking, airline, nuclear power, pipeline, environmental, rail, public transportation, workplace safety and health, and consumer protection laws. Detailed information on employee whistleblower rights, including fact sheets and instructions on how to submit the form in hard-copy format, is available online at www.osha.gov.

Under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, employers are responsible for providing safe and healthful workplaces for their employees. OSHA’s role is to ensure these conditions for America’s working men and women by setting and enforcing standards, and providing training, education and assistance. For more information, visit www.osha.gov.
